SUNDAY AT MIDWAY

First New York Excursion of the Season.

THE RAIN KEPT MANY AT HOME.

over 350 Excursionists Here - Accident on the Roller Coaster Which Resulted in the Death of a Young Girl.

The first excursion this season from New York to Midway Park, Sunday, would have been a large one but for the fact that it rained hard in New York in the morning, and many who had planned to spend a day in the country remained at home.

As it was, Engineer Paffenberger pulled 273 passengers out of Westchester station. At Cora wad twenty-five more boarded the train, and at Campbell Hall sixty from the Poughkeepsie Bridge road were added to the party. The train did not leave until nearly 10 o'clock and reached here about 12:20. There were many people on the platform to greet them as they alighted from the train. Special trolley cars were in waiting and the excursionists were soon loaded into the cars. In the main the excursionists were made up of family parties, although there were not many children among them. In some parties there were nearly a score of acquaintances, all bent on getting out of the crowded city for a day's change of air and surroundings.

As soon as the train reached this city sixty people went into Scholzer's restaurant and were served with a fine course dinner. Mr. Scholzer has just put in a modern kitchen for keeping a dinner hot, and the waitresses served the meal in quick order when the party was seated.

At the restaurant at Midway Park about seventy had a good dinner served on the cool platforms and in the cafe. This dinner was also generously and expeditiously served. Mr. Starrett, who returned from Connecticut Sunday morning, was in time to entertain matters, but he had lots of food left.

Many of the excursionists had luncheon with them, and these went out to Smith & Backman's or Bauer's Park, where they occupied the picnic tables put there for that purpose.

The band gave a fine concert from 2 o'clock until 3:30, and the grounds about the stand were crowded with people. The Middletown contingent was out in great numbers, the extra humidity driving hundreds from their homes to the cars and the park.

During the afternoon there was an accident on the roller coaster which caused considerable excitement while it lasted. A party of Germans from Hoboken were mixed up in it and they had very narrow escapes from serious injuries.

A car in which were Fred Lang, Jr., his wife, his sister, Miss Tillie Lang, and Antonio Berberich, broke a wheel in the last loop before the car runs out on the trestle by the road from the park to Philadelphia. The track was wet and the wheel slipped on a curve and was torn off. The car slid along the tracks for forty feet and stopped. Lang and Berberich helped the ladies to the ground and they jumped to the bank several feet below. Another car came tearing around the curve before the injured car could be removed and Lang jumped over the trestle twelve feet below. The second car contained Henry Lang, brother of the Langs in the first car, Miss Bertha Schellert, Fred Thomson, of Union Hill, and Miss Emily Fisher. All of the party belong in Hoboken except Thomson. This car smashed into the first one wrecking it badly. The party was badly frightened, but not much injured. They climbed out and also jumped over the rail to the bank and ran down the bank. A crowd had collected by this time, and shrieking women added to the excitement. When the broken car over the rail and Fred Lang, Jr., was hit on the right leg just below the knee by the end of the car. He received a bad bruise and from the ground which came from him the report spread that a leg was broken. The crowd rushed over on the track to get a better view of the accident and in a moment a third car was heard coming around the curve, its four occupants, two ladies and two gentlemen, laughing and shouting over the pleasure of their trip. An effort was made to get the second car out of the way, but it failed, and the third car plunged into it. The occupants of the car were half-frightened out of their wits when they saw a collision was inevitable. The third car telescoped the second, and Frank Ogden, an employee of the coaster, tried to stop them but was knocked over, and his legs were broken. With the same luck the others had. With the occupants of this car escaped all injuries except bruised shins.

A rush was made on the broken cars and they were thrown one side as a fourth car with four people came down into the terminal. Ogden worked his hands and the car stopped as usual. In half an hour the cars were again going and were as well patronized as if nothing had happened.

Lang, Jr., was assisted into the car and Mrs. Moore bound his leg up with an arm-and-screw bandage and he was soon able to limp around.

The excursionists were taken back to the O. and W. Westham avenue station at 6:30, and at 7 o'clock the train took them home.

New Freight Locomotives for the Erie.

The Erie has just ordered from the Brooks Locomotive Works, twenty consolidation freight locomotives. They will have 21 in. by 28 in. cylinders, and will be duplicates of those built by the Brooks Locomotive Works for the same road in May and June, except that the engines now ordered will have Wooten boilers.

An Agricultural Society's New Departure.

The managers of the Chenango County Agricultural Society have voted to limit county fair premiums to bona fide residents of that county. They are tired of having a good share of the premium money picked up by exhibitors who make the rounds of fairs and hope that the new departure will increase the interest of Chenango county people in what is intended to be a Chenango county fair in part as well as in name.

ON THE GREEN DIAMOND.

Saturday's Games of Ball on State Hospital Grounds.

The ball game between the Asylum and the State Hill team drew three hundred people to the State Hospital grounds, Saturday afternoon. The game was not very interesting, however, owing to the errors made by the State Hill players and the ease with which they were beaten. Tierney, of Goschen, started in to pitch, but gave up after the first inning, when he thought his support was poor. He tossed the ball up to the Asylum batsmen when a touch of muscular rheumatism developed itself, and the score might have been 50 to 12, instead of 19 to 12, had not Larkin, the State Hill's regular pitcher, gone into the box. Wengert, who had good support, Lou, a new member of the Asylum team, made a fine showing. His run bases well, coached well, made three hits and accepted every falling chance.

The game, however, was too full of errors and jolly to be detailed at any length. The visitors seemed to be suffering with a cold, George E. Wallace, of the Royal Arcanums, umpired the game fairly.

After this game, the Asylum played two innings against the Royal Arcanums. The outcome had intended to play, but neither side received an injury to his foot and the game was called off. The Asylum had a lead over the Arcanums when the Asylum, hearing the upper bell ringing, put up an argument with umpire Brown over a decision and left the grounds on a run.

There is going to be a good Asylum team organized and the season will shortly be opened with the Cuban Giants as the opposing team. The new Asylum team will include the Ontario Field Club's battery—Stewart, 1b.; Wengert, 2b.; Moorehead, ss.; General, 3b.; Tierney, 1b.; Miller, cf.; and Radzinski, rf. Walden and Middletown play at the hospital grounds, Friday afternoon.

AN ITALIAN WEDDING.

A disappointed Lover Who Is Out About $100.

A wedding occurred at the residence of Frank Palo, Saturday night, at which Justice A. M. Payne united in marriage Angelo Villero and Cristina Fresco.

The usual jollification occurred, but there is a story of a broken-hearted lover in the case.

Peter Reno, who is a section hand employed by the O. and W., with a temporary stopping place at Watertown, is said to be the disappointed one. He claims to have invested nearly $100 in the preparation of his suit for Cristina's hand and in arrangements for the wedding in which he supposed he was to participate. He claims that he lost his bride at the last moment through some outside influence.

The following may or may not be a sequel of the wedding:

Peter Reno appeared in court, to-day, and asked for a warrant for the arrest of Maria Lianeri, aged 17, who was on Saturday married to James Bellavito. He alleges that she has $22 in his money, which he gave her to get ready to marry him, and that she kept the money but not her pledge to marry him. With Italian sagacity she asked for a jury trial and it was set down for Friday, at 9 o'clock. In the meantime she is out under $100 bail, furnished by Pascal Ramaldi, of Goschen.

The named given in the first part of this article are as written on a note book belonging to an Angus reporter, by Frank Palo. The names in the police court case are as written on the police court blotter.

THE COUNTY BUILDING.

Alterations That Will Give the County Clerk More Room.

From the Gooschen Independent.

Work was commenced, Wednesday, on the alterations to the county building. A large opening is being made and an arch turned in the partition wall separating the apartments formerly occupied by the Surrogate and those at present used by the County Clerk, thus connecting all the rooms on the first floor of the building. The clerk will have a private office in the above-fronting on East Main street. A glass partition will separate this room from the main apartments.

New lock and hinges will be constructed in the now unoccupied portion of the first floor, and when everything is completed the County Clerk will have room enough in which to do business for many years to come.

BACK TO THE ISLAND

Girl Paroled from House of Refuge at Midway.

RETURNED TO RANDALL'S ISLAND.

Had Been at the Park for a Week and in None Too Good Company—Taken in Charge by Officer Wood and Turned Over to Sheriff.

A comely young woman, about twenty-two years of age, made Midway Park her headquarters from Sunday, July 9, until Saturday night. She was discovered by some of the regular park frequenters to be of feeble mind and lax morals, and it is said that they took advantage of her. She spent the evenings there in company with first one and then the other of the men who are always scavenging for such as her, but no one seemed to know who she was or where she hailed from. So far as outward appearances went she was modest and well-behaved.

Friday night she remained all night in the park being found in the woman's rooming room near the roller coaster terminal Saturday morning. She was led and as she seemed in a very nervous state and would give no account of herself she was taken in charge by park officer Wood. He brought her to this city and took her to Dept. of the Poor Wood.

It was learned there that she was paroled from the House of Refuge, and had been employed, it is said, at the summer home of E. M. Carpenter at Monroe. He is the superintendent of the House of Refuge, on Randall's Island, and it is said that efforts to reform the girl were being made.

Supt. Wood sent the officer and the girl to Sheriff Strong, at Goschen, but he declined to receive her as there were no commitment papers. Officer Wood then drove with her to Supt. Carpenter's residence. He was not there, but his son told the officer to take her back to the sheriff and tell him to lock her up until his father could be communicated with. This was done and on Sunday, about 11 o'clock, she was taken in charge by the Refuge authorities and returned to Randall's Island.

FREIGHT HANDLERS' STRIKE.

Pennsylvania Railroad Shuts Out Its Night Force - Few Day Men at Work.

By Associated Press.

New York, July 17.—Three hundred and seventy-five handlers on the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's piers, who struck last evening for higher pay, are peacefully shut out, as the company, to-day, announced that there will be no more night work on the piers.

Agent Townsend said that the company had contemplated doing away with the night force for some time and that the strike had forced matters. This morning there were but seventy of the force at work on the piers. These men were all that reported for duty out of a force of 375.

WANTS TO BE REINSTATED.

Charles A. Weiss Trying to Mandamus Millard Division, O. R. C.

The long threatened publicity of the troubles between Millard Division, No. 104, O. R. C., and Charles E. Weiss has at last developed and, it is claimed, through the publication in the Brooklyn Eagle of an alternative writ of mandamus in an action brought by Weiss to compel Millard Division to reinstate him as a member in good standing. The plaintiff claims that he was expelled on a charge of failing to pay a doctor's bill incurred by a member of his family, while he was in California.

Judge Lambert granted the application of counsel for Millard Division to have a return of the writ in Orange county, which was apposed on the ground that Weiss could not get a fair trial here. Weiss claimed that the affair had been "aired" in the Middletown papers. Judge Lambert said: "People will have forgotten about it by this time."

John C. R. Taylor is counsel for Millard Division and J. M. Gardner for Weiss. The members of Millard Division claim that they have not "aired" the matter through the local newspapers, but that they will shortly do so. They claim that the order paid out over $100 on Weiss's account, and that he has not done anything towards repaying them. They hint at other reasons for his expulsion from the division in February last, but will not make any statements until the matter gets into court.

TROUT WOULDN'T BITE.

Disappointed Visitors at Lenape Lake - Only Two Fish Taken.

Trout fishing is at a stand still. Even visitors at Lenape Lake have had to come home with empty creels. There was quite a delegation of Middletowners at this lake, near Livingston Manor, Saturday, which included Edward D. Tompkins, George T. Walker and B. B. Williams, who are members of the Club, and Mrs. L. G. Wilson, who are on a driving trip through Sullivan county and George Hankins, F. M. Madden and G. H. Brown. Mr. Madden caught two trout and the rest of the party shot a dozen frogs and that was the net result of the sport.

This was one report, but later reports are that Mr. Tompkins caught ten, and during the two days' stay there Mr. Williams' party took twenty-seven. Mrs. Wilson landed one trout weighing a pound and a half.

LITTLE OR NO DISORDER, TO-DAY.

About Fifty Men Who Were Out Yesterday at Work To-day—Consolidated Employees Again Out—The Men's Grievances.

New York, July 17.—About two-thirds of the cars on all lines of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company, except the Nassau system, were running this morning.

No trouble had occurred up to noon. The cars are all policed with from one to four patrolmen each, except the Putnam and Halsey street lines, which is running as in normal times.

President Rosier said this morning that fifty of the men who went out yesterday reported for work to-day.

At the strikers' headquarters the men asserted that while cars on some of the lines are running it was with great irregularity. The strikers claim six recruits, this morning, from among men who remained at work yesterday.

CLEVELAND STREET CARMEN AGAIN OUT.

Cleveland, July 17.—The conductors and motormen of the big Consolidated Street Railway system, who were on strike last night, went out again, to-day.

Eight hundred men are affected. They claim the company has not lived up to the agreement which ended the former strike.

During the early hours of to-day not a car was running on any of the lines, fifteen in number. Large crowds are congregated at all of the burns of the company, but so far as reported no violence has occurred.

All reports of failures in the field have been suppressed, as have all mentions of heat prostrations, and the real facts as to the Filipinos' strength and the necessity of a greatly increased American force.
